State-of-the-Pandemic in RI with Dr. Philip Chan and Dr. James McDonald: A Conservator Conversation

The PPL Conservator Society is pleased to invite the public to our next Conservator Conversation. To launch a “mini-series” of Covid 19-related events, Dr. James McDonald and Dr. Philip Chan, RI Department of Health (RIDOH) clinical directors and leaders in the state’s Covid-19 fight, will update us on the trajectory of the pandemic and advise us how best to stay safe. They will then address questions that participants submit in advance. Drs. Chan and McDonald are new Conservators, and there will be a private “meet-and-greet” for other current Conservator Society members to welcome them on Zoom prior to the public event.
